

Elevator Pitch

A web portfolio showcasing the applications, projects, and life of Richard Brush.

Long Pitch

The site, as of now yet unnamed, will focus on the life and works of Richard Brush, with an emphasis on the projects in which he played in integral role in either conception or execution. Recruiters will love the site because they'll be able to access Richard's entire library of work and resume with little effort on their part. Though currently unemployed, the site must be able to be switched to a mode that easily identifies that Richard is unavailable for project opportunities.